Fiscal printer

DEON online is a versatile printer, dedicated to both stationary and field work, in services as well as medium and small retail outlets. Small dimensions and ergonomics • DEON ONLINE is used in many businesses: small and medium-sized shops, doctor's offices, law offices, beauty and hairdressing salons, other service points and in mobile sales, where small dimensions and ergonomics of the printer are particularly appreciated.

MODERN ONLINE CONNECTION - Thanks to electronic transmission, receipts are systematically sent to CRK and the user does not have to worry about storing them. The copy is also saved in the local memory of the protected device. Access to the saved data is very simple - the user has constant access to its memory module protected by the application and can read it freely.

WORK IN ALL CONDITIONS - DEON Online has a backlit keyboard, which further facilitates work even in complete darkness, and its silicone surface protects the device against environmental conditions such as rain or snow, dirt or accidental flooding. The backlit, colour printer keyboard is based on very precise buttons, making the operation very easy and pleasant.

UNIVERSAL COMMUNICATION - For communication with a computer, the printer is equipped with a LAN connector for connecting it to computer networks. It is currently the best, most functional connection of devices and computers. In addition, the user also has a USB and RS232 interface at their disposal. The printer has been equipped with the most modern XML communication protocol for conducting sales via computer systems. Additional communication modules can be easily installed in the printer, including WiFi, BT, WLAN.

WORK WITHOUT ELECTRICITY - in a mobile device, its battery power and battery capacity are very important. DEON Online can print up to 3,000 receipts without a power supply, which allows you to work for several days without recharging. Low energy consumption is ensured by the advanced system of putting individual printer elements to sleep while the device is idle. The printer will automatically turn off the LCD backlight when working without a power supply to additionally save battery power. After the message informing about the need to charge the battery, you can still print up to 300 receipts. In addition, the printer's battery is made in the form of a package that can be disconnected from the printer and charged from the power supply outside the printer, while working on a spare battery.
